Still Wild. A note

Still Wild reduces familiar creatures to their resting posture, smoothing away detail until only a recognisable mass remains. Each form is hand-laid as a solid-looking shell and finished in aged or burnished bronze, so that it reads as cast metal while remaining light enough to move with ease.

Aged bronze is built from a deep brown base layered with green-grey patina, then rubbed back by hand on the high points to reveal warmer tones. The result is a finish with the depth of true cast metal, sealed matte and durable enough for lobbies, terraces and busy dining rooms.
